Axys® Brings Modern, Cloud-Based Technology to Long-Term Care Pharmacy

(Spartanburg, SC – 1/17/2023) RedSail Technologies is proud to release a game-changer in the long-term care pharmacy industry. Axys®, a cloud-based pharmacy management system, offers the industry a fresh and modern solution utilizing the latest technology available.

Chief Operating Officer Bob Bates said, “As cloud-based technology, Axys gives pharmacies important advantages like fast updates, low-cost scaling, comprehensive security, and market-leading reliability. It’s the same technology used by the world’s leading industries.”

Axys' user-friendly design substantially reduces training time, a big benefit for an industry with frequent turnover. It also provides pharmacies with better visibility into their operations with advanced reporting capabilities across single or multiple pharmacies. Additionally, Axys offers seamless integration with industry-leading workflow and delivery management tools DocuTrack® and DeliveryTrack® for a complete pharmacy software platform.

Bryce McCoy, Data Entry Supervisor at Guardian Pharmacy of Indianapolis, highlighted Axys’ ease of use. “As a rapidly growing pharmacy, we are often hiring new technicians, and it’s important for us to be able to onboard them in a quick, efficient manner,” said McCoy. “This system has been designed with the user in mind – it’s fast, intuitive and easy to use, enhancing our productivity, which in turn allows us to focus our energy on resident care and customer service.”

Bates emphasized that releasing Axys is key to RedSail Technologies’ overall mission. “Cutting-edge pharmacy software like Axys helps pharmacies grow their business while keeping their focus on patient care,” he said. “RedSail is committed to innovating and giving pharmacies the best tools and technology to succeed at doing what they do best.”

To support the release of Axys, a completely redesigned website was launched at www.integragroup.com. The site showcases the new Axys software and streamlines users’ experience with the entire product platform. The site will be regularly updated with podcast and blog content, product news, and upcoming events.

RedSail is currently scheduling future implementations of Axys. For more information and product demos, contact sales@redsailtechnologies.com, or visit www.integragroup.com/axys.
