RedSail Technologies® Announces Integration Between Axys® and Eldermark

(Spartanburg, SC – 6/22/2023) RedSail Technologies, LLC, developer of Axys by Integra, is pleased to announce its integration with Eldermark, a leading provider of senior living software. This collaboration delivers enhanced care, operational efficiency, and improved financial outcomes for senior living communities.

The integration empowers senior living operators and caregivers with a seamless platform to streamline workflow and optimize resident care. Axys' medication management capabilities combined with Eldermark's suite of solutions provide a holistic approach to managing the complex needs of senior residents.

"Our partnership with pharmacies, most recently RedSail's Axys, showcases our commitment to transformative healthcare solutions," said Mark Anderson, Chief Client Officer of Eldermark. "This union promises enhanced care, streamlined operations, and stronger financial outcomes, setting new industry benchmarks in senior living through relentless innovation."

Senior living communities can leverage the integrated platform to gain actionable insights, improve revenue optimization, and enhance clinical outcomes. The system enables efficient prospect-to-resident transitions, accurate assessment and service plans, documentation of care and services, billing and accounts receivable management, and comprehensive financial records.

The integration reflects RedSail Technologies' commitment to innovation and transformative healthcare solutions. By harnessing the power of both platforms, senior living communities can elevate care delivery, ensure medication adherence, and improve overall resident well-being.

The partnership between Axys and Eldermark represents a significant milestone in the senior living industry. By combining their expertise, Axys and Eldermark are poised to transform the senior living landscape, setting new standards for care quality, operational effectiveness, and financial success.

RedSail is currently scheduling future implementations of Axys. For more information and product demos, email sales@redsailtechnologies.com or visit integragroup.com/axys.
